

The authors – les auteurs

Katherine Foi, Fiji, teacher in a secondary school, research on Marist beginnings in Fiji.

Mervyn Duffy, New Zealand Marist, lecturer in theology at the Good Shepherd College, Auckland.

Alois Greiler, German Marist, regional superior in Germany.

Dr. Tony Hanna, married, Dundalk (Ireland). He is a co-founder of a new Catholic Ecclesial community in Ireland called The Family of God (Armagh, Ireland). He has been a council member of the International Catholic Fraternity established by the Pontifical Council of the Laity, and a Director of CEIST, Educational Trust to look after the future of Catholic Education. He was a teacher in the Marist College Dundalk and later a member of the school board. He was a Senior Education Consultant at Marino Institute of Education and was one of the chief architects of the Catholic Schools Project. Currently he is the Director of the Pastoral Plan for the Archdiocese of Armagh and is involved with major structural change and re-organisation of the diocese.

Jan Hulshof SM, Dutch Marist, superior general from 2001 – 2009.

Hugh Laracy, New Zealand, professor at the University of Auckland, many publications on the history of the Pacific and Marist history.

Kevin Quigley, Ireland, married with four children; M.Ed., MSc. P.G. Dip Theol., De La Salle College of Education Manchester, and Heythrop College University of London and both Manchester Universities; He worked as Headteacher of a Catholic Secondary school and as Principal of a Catholic V1 Form College, as independent Consultant. He is currently Deputy Director of Education for the Diocese of Salford. He is a foundation Governor of his local Catholic primary school and a Consultant for the Centre for Christian Education, Hope University, Liverpool. a Trustee of the Stapleford Christian Education Centre, Nottingham and a Director of N.E.T.C.E.T. [Networking Catholic Education Trust.]

José Rodríguez, Marist from Spain, worked in the preparation of the new constitutions for the 1985 general chapter.

Justin Taylor, New Zealand Marist, after teaching at the École biblique in Jerusalem, he is now working on a biography of Colin in Rome